Companies and tradespeople with who specialize in heritage buildings in Southwestern Ontario

Prepared by:
Heritage Planning Staff
Planning and Development Department
Town of Oakville

Introduction

The Town of Oakville has a long-standing history of heritage conservation and is known for its well-preserved historic homes and neighbourhoods. This guide is presented to help owners of heritage properties make informed choices about hiring contractors and planning a particular project. Before work begins, please ensure that a heritage permit has been approved for any project on a designated property. In addition to this document, property owners may find the following links useful in their research:

The Canadian Association of Heritage Professionals (CAHP)

CAHP represents professional practitioners in heritage conservation. The organization maintains principles and standards of practice for heritage consultants and tradespeople. The CAHP website provides a listing of their practicing heritage building specialists: cahp-acecp.ca/

Parks Canada, Standards & Guidelines for the Conservation of Historic Places in Canada

Emphasis has been placed on providing sound, practical advice for conserving our rich and irreplaceable built heritage. The entire document can be found here:
